

5-Minute Daily Qigong

A simple routine from the 'What Is Qi?' video - no equipment, no teacher needed

Do this every morning. Breathe slowly. Move softer than you think you should.

1. Stand Still (Wuji) - 1 min

Feet shoulder-width, knees soft, tongue gently on the roof of the mouth. Let the shoulders drop. Breathe slowly down into the lower belly.

2. Cloud Hands - 1 min

Shift weight side to side. Arms trace slow circles, as if moving through water. Eyes soft, gaze low.

3. Qi Ball - 1 min

Palms face each other about 20 cm apart. Slowly open and close them. Notice any warmth or tingling between the hands.

4. Spinal Flow - 1 min

Gentle forward fold, then roll up slowly, one vertebra at a time. Let the breath lead the movement.

5. Ground & Close - 1 min

Rub the palms warm, cover the lower belly (lower dantian), feel the stillness. End with one slow exhale.
